What can we do to support creation and maintenance of software?

Give developers your time